(WebHosting.Info) Clear Packets, a security solutions provider, announced general availability of its FMS-Enterprise Gateway, The company states that it is the first true enterprise class integrated solution for virus protection, web security, information protection, content filtering and employee internet management.

It believes that FMS-Enterprise Gateway is a major advancement in being able to precisely identify known harmful programs such as viruses, worms, malware, spyware, P2P clients or any other programs right on the wire. Further this technology enables it to kill any known harmful programs on the wire before they reach their target and do the damage. Its unique stateful URL-domain active tracking technology enables advanced web content filtering for network security and employee internet management, adds the company.

FMS-Enterprise Gateway raises the bar to next level in terms of high availability, scalability and performance. Its breakthrough simplicity and enterprise class high performance makes it the first integrated solution offering, claims the company.
